“ The thing I remembered the most about Greg was the way he re-acted toward people. He was always the same friendly person with everyone always willing to help and with great energy he was ready to accomplish the job. Although I have been retired for several years I'm sure you presence will be greatly missed at work and every where else you are known.I am reminded of Hebrews Ch11 Vs4 about Abel and his gift the Bible say's though he be dead yet he speaketh. Thanks Greg for speaking to our lives still.

“ I've been retired from AGC for 18 month. I worked wit Greg for almost 30 yrs. He was the most giving and unselfish person I've ever known. I'm still in shock and will miss him terribly.

“ Greg was the nicest guy. I was temp at AGC he never treated me less than. He rooted for me to get hired on. I did and he was so happy for me. He always stopped to talk about hunting with me . He always brought in pickles for us to eat. He always showed me the deer his family members got . He was very proud. I will miss seeing his face at work.

“ I grew up without a father and Greg knew this. He was my work dad, he even called me son. Any time we got the chance to work together we'd get so excited. We'd have each other in tears laughing at the silliest things. He was hilarious, best sense of humor ever. People would be like "oh boy, Derek and Greg are working together" lol. When we did inventory we would always rush to be partners, then we'd go get breakfast, which he never let me pay.

At work he always brought me food, we liked to try new/strange foods together. One time I got back from break and there was a plate of frog legs on my desk, I knew they were from Greg lol. We would go shopping at salvage stores, buying all kinds of goodies. He got me hooked on shopping at those places. I still have a pair of work boots he gave me. I could go on and on. I only knew him for about eight years but he greatly impacted my life during that time. I'm going to miss him terribly. I'm so grateful I got the chance to get to know him. My heart goes out to his family and friends.
